DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

THE SENATE WORKING ON THE INCOME TAX OF THE TARIFF.

Several Speeches Made For and Against the Measure—Senator Vest Offers New Amendments—Hatch's Anti-Option Bill Passes the House.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Some routine business was transacted by the senate and several unobjectionable bills were passed by unanimous consent, including a bill to ratify an agreement with the Yankton tribe of Sioux or Dakota Indians of South Dakota.

Great progress was made on the tariff bill and the free list was almost completed. It covered over 500 articles, there being something over 600 on the free list.

The Democrats carried things their way till they reached quicksilver. Here the Republicans made a stand for a duty which would amount to about 70 per cent. ad valorem, the McKinley law being greater than that. Quicksilver was finally placed on the dutiable list at 7 cents per pound.

The senate went into executive session and adjourned.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—There was a fairly good attendance in the galleries in anticipation of the opening of the income tax debate when the senate was called to order. Some preliminary routine business was transacted. The tariff bill was laid before the senate. As soon as the clerk had read the first section of the income tax provisions Mr. Hill, who assumed the leadership of the opposition to these provisions, took the floor and delivered a carefully prepared argument against the incorporation of the income tax in the tariff.

Mr. Higgins followed Mr. Hill and then came a skirmish between Mr. Chandler and Mr. Allen.

Two amendments to the bill were disposed of, one offered by Mr. Aldrich, providing that the tax should not be collected after 1898 instead of 1900, as provided for by the senate committee's amendment. This was voted down. Mr. Peffer's amendment, which provides for a graduated income tax, shared the same fate. It, therefore, looks as if the Democratic columns could not be broken even on this schedule.

The reports from the sugar investigating committee were then presented. The question of their reception occasioned considerable debate. Mr. Hill entered a motion not to receive the reports. The senate went into executive session and adjourned without action on Hill's motion.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Very rapid progress was made on the tariff bill. The income tax on page 170, having been reached when the senate adjourned. Only 61 pages of the bill, the income tax and the internal revenue features, remain undisposed of, and the end of the long debate seems close at hand.

The remaining features of the free list were completed without friction, sugar and wool, the great controversial items, contrary to expectations, not giving rise to debate. A yea and nay vote was demanded on striking sugar from the free list, while the final struggle in free wool was postponed until the bill should be reported to the senate. The administrative features of the bill [sections 23 to 48 inclusive] were stricken out, as Mr. Jones explained, in order to facilitate the passage of the bill. If it was deemed advisable later to enact the proposed administrative sections it could be done in a separate bill.

Mr. Allison intimated that it was the wish of the secretary of the treasury to place the new tariff bill in force under the operation of the present administrative law, and if defects were found to correct them later on.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Quite a number of bills were passed before the consideration of the tariff bill was resumed by the senate Friday. The house bill to incorporate the supreme Knights of Pythias was reported favorably by Senator Faulkner and was immediately passed. Also senate bill making the first Monday in September of each year (Labor day) a legal holiday.

When the tariff bill was laid before the senate Kyle took the floor.

While Mr. Kyle was speaking Senator Call of Florida rather shocked the spectators in the gallery by removing his shoes and elevating a large pair of sky blue stockings to the neighboring desk. He gently agitated the superheated atmosphere with a large palm leaf fan and seemed to have succeeded in making himself fairly comfortable.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kyle's speech Mr. Vest offered four additional amendments to the income tax sections. The most important one was to reduce the exemption from $4000 to $3000.

Mr. Teller supported the income tax proposition and Mr. Sherman opposed the tax.

Mr. Allen secured the floor and drifted back into the sugar debate.

At the conclusion of Mr. Allen's remarks Mr. Jarvis, Senator Vance's successor from North Carolina made his maiden speech in support of the income tax.

It was 6 o'clock when Mr. Jarvis finished and Mr. Hill, who wanted to reply to some of the remarks made, asked Mr. Harris, in charge of the bill, to yield to an adjournment, as the senate had been sitting eight hours at a temperature in the chamber of 85 degrees.

This Mr. Harris refused to do and a sharp debate followed between Mr. Hill and Mr. Harris. The senate finally adjourned at 7:10 without a quorum.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The half hour usually devoted to miscellaneous business in the senate was occupied by Senator Call with a resolution providing for a committee of five senators to investigate the election and control of senators and representatives by corporations. He made a brief speech on the subject.

Mr. Sherman said he was willing, but investigation should be allowed so far as Florida was concerned, but he did not think it was just to make it so broad and sweeping as contained in the resolution and including the whole country. The resolution went over and the tariff bill was taken up. Mr. Hill took the floor.

On Mr. Hill's motion to substitute $2000 for $4000 in the line of exemption from the income tax the vote was 26 yeas to 39 nays. Hill moved to make the line of exemption from income tax $1000 instead of $3000. The vote was yeas 18 and nays 32.

The House.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The anti-option bill occupied the attention of the house all day, and an agreement was made that the debate should close at adjournment today and a vote be taken on Friday. Speeches were made against the bill by Representatives Goldzier, Walker and Harter, while Mr. Richardson of Michigan spoke in favor of it.

The speaker was still confined to his room by sickness, Mr. Bailey performing the duties of speaker pro tem.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Mr. Bailey of Texas was in the chair in the house and several bills and resolutions were passed. There was some delay in taking up the anti-option bill, and an agreement was entered into extending the time for debate for two hours today, to be consumed under the 5-minute rule, after which Mr. Hatch will be allowed an hour for his closing speech.

Speeches were made by Representatives Grosvenor of Ohio, Wheeler of Alabama, Stockdale of Mississippi and Berry of Arkansas in suport of the bill, and by Mr. Covert of New York, Bartlett of New York, Quigg of New York and Boatner of Lousiana in opposition to it.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Immediately on convening the house went into committee of the whole on the anti-option bill. The bill was read by sections for amendments, and Mr. Aldrich of Illinois offered the first amendment, inserting "flour" in the list of agricultural products affected by the bill.

The amendment of Mr. Aldrich was adopted on division—93 to 83.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Lacey (Rep., Cal.) providing that in case a seller described in this act shall in fact be the owner of the property contracted to be sold at the time of the sale, failure to deliver at the time fixed in the contract, when caused by delay in transportation or the fault of the carrier, shall be sufficient excuse for the nonpayment of the final stamp tax provided for in this act. Adopted.

Mr. Hatch was then recognized and was given an hour to debate on the bill.

The committee having risen, the first yea and nay vote being on Cox's amendment as amended by Mr. Boatner's amendment, permitting further delivery sales in due course of business, which was disagreed to—11 to 129.

Several attempts were made to recommit the bill, but all were ruled out of order and the bill passed by a vote of 149 to 87.

Immediately after the passage of the bill the general deficiency appropriation bill was then taken up. After a few minutes spent in explanation of the bill by Mr. Sayers, who is in charge of it, in place of Mr. Breckinridge, the committee rose, and a recess was taken until evening. The evening session was devoted to private pension bills.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The house held a short session ane after considering the deficiency appropriation bill until 3:15 o'clock it went over and the house adjourned.

BISHOP W. PERKINS DEAD.

The Ex-Senator Passes Away Suddenly at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Ex-Senator Bishop W. Perkins of Kansas died here very suddenly Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

Bishop W. Perkins of Oswego was born in Rochester, Lorain county, O., Oct. 18, 1841, was admitted to the bar at Ottawa, Ills., in 1867, served four years as a soldier in the Union army, going out as sergeant in the Eighty-third Illinois infantry, and was adjutant and captain of the Sixteenth United States colored infantry, was county attorney of Labette county in 1869, was elected probate judge of the county in 1870 and again in 1872, in February, 1873, was appointed judge of the Eleventh judicial district of Kansas, and in November of that year was elected for the unexpired term, was re-elected in November, 1874, and again in November, 1878, holding the office for almost 10 years, was elected to the Forty-eighth congress as congressman-at-large, to the Forty-ninth, Fiftieth and Fifty-first congresses, and was appointed Jan. 1, 1892, to the United States senate to fill, until the election of his successor, the vacancy caused by the death of Hon Preston B. Plumb, which occurred Dec. 20, 1891.

Mr. Perkins was a candidate to succeed himself, but a coalition of Democrats and Populists placed his party in the minority and the Hon. John Martin of Topeka was elected. At the time of his death he was a prominent candidate to succeed Mr. Peffer.

EXCURSIONISTS DROWNED.

Twenty-Four Persons Go Down With a Tug Off the Highlands.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The tug James D. Nichols with 63 excursionsts and a crew numbering 10 or 12, sank at about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon some three miles off the Highlands. Fifty-four of those on board have been accounted for, the rest were probably drowned.

The tug left Fifth street and East river at 7 o'clock a. m., touched at Pier 3, East river, and then went on to the fishing grounds. She had, it is said, a license to carry 50 passengers, but 63 tickets sold. There was a bar and lunch counter on board, whose attendants with the crew brought the whole number on board up to about 75.

The tug reached the banks on time, but the fishing was poor and the sea too rough for comfort and about noon she started back. When about three miles east of the Highlands and about four miles south of Scotland lightship, the waves began to break heavily over the starboard rail.

To dodge the water and wind the passengers began to run around to the port side and to climb on top of the deck-house. The boat careened alarmingly to port and the water swept in over the rail. The terror stricken men rushed back to starboard and the tug swung deeply down on that side. At the same moment three heavy breakers struck the boat in quick succession.

The captain, William H. Yats, stuck pluckily to his post and sounded the whistle in a prolonged scream for help. Even as he did so the tug filled with water that poured into her from both sides, sank out of sight in the water. She went down like a stone, carrying many of her passengers with her. The water choked the cry of the whistle, but not before it had been heard and heeded.

Boats at once went to the rescue and did what they could to save the passengers. The Sayers brought up 34 survivors and landed them on the east side. The C. E. Evarts brought up two bodies and several survivors. The Governor is supposed to have landed others in Brooklyn. Altogether 54 out of the 75 have been accounted for, three of them being dead.

OUTRAGE IN COLORADO.

Adjutant General Tarsney Kidnaped and Tared and Feathered.

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 26.—Adjutant General Tarsney was kidnaped from the Alamo hotel a few minutes after midnight Saturday by masked men and taken to the suburbs in a hack and there tarred and feathered. Several unknown men took part in the outrage and the adjutant general was left lying on the prairie.

The kidnapping caused great sensation and excitement as soon as the facts became public, and also at Cripple Creek, to which place the telephone company carried the news.

At midnight while only the night clerk and porter were on duty Tarsney was called to the telephone, he had spoken one word when two masked men appeared. Upon his refusal to go with them he was struck a vicious blow on the head with a revolver. Tarsney staggered toward the door and was ruthlessly seized by the two masked men and hurried toward the street.

The clerk did not interfere. He had been warned to keep his hands off by a third masked man who had suddenly appeared at the door.

In front of the hotel two hacks were standing. Four other masked men were seen there. The drivers, who it was afterward learned, had been intimidated, sat on the cab boxes and the victim was hustled into one of the vehicles, the masked men getting into them the drivers were ordered to be off, and up the street the party moved at a mad gallop.

The drivers of the two hacks first brought the news to town. It was that [illegible] point near Austin Bluffs, between two and three miles out of town, and after removing General Tarsney's clothes had covered him over with tar and feathers.

Driver Crunley says that after the tar and feathers had been applied Tarsney was told to move on out of El Paso county; that he was not wanted either in Cripple Creek or Colorado Springs, and if he ever showed up again that he would meet a worse fate than a dose of tar and feathers.

There was a meeting of 25 deputy sheriffs at Antlers Park at 10 o'clock, Friday and it is believed that the plot against Tarsney was hatched there.

A mass meeting has been called to denounce the outrage.

Tarsney at Home.

DENVER, June 25.—General Tarsney was found at Palmer lake, whither he had gone as soon as he escaped from his captors. He was brought to Denver on a special train sent out by the governor.

TWO NEGROES HANGED.

Seventy-Five Kentucky Farmers Lynch Them For Stealing Stock.

COLUMBUS, O., June 22.—A special says 75 farmers of Mason county, Kentucky, Tuesday night hanged Archie Bort and William Haines, negroes, who are said to have been stealing horses and sheep. Two of Haines' boys live at Gallipolis, O. The negroes are said to have been terrorizing that locality. They were seen stealing by several stockmen, who were compelled to move on at the points of the desperadoes, revolvers. This enraged the people of the neighborhood and they concluded to organize a lynching mob, with the above result.

been in progress since Monday. Numerous witnesses were on the stand and everything went to show that the murder was deliberate. The plea of insanity would not work in her case and the jury assessed her the death penalty.

A BRUTAL FATHER.

He Beats His Daughter With a Buggy-whip and Ties Her to a Post.

AUSTIN, June 23.—Adolph Hoffelder, a butcher doing business on East Sixth street, was arraigned before Justice Johnson and placed under a $200 appearance bond on a charge of committing an aggravated assault on his 17-year-old daughter. He is alleged to have cruelly beaten her with a buggy whip, after which he bound her hand and foot, threw her into his delivery wagon and hauled her to his shop as he would have done a hog's carcass, and after arriving there tied her to a post and pointed her out to customers as the only piece of beef he had in the shop. His neighbors are wrought up over the affair and it was some time before he could go home in safety. He will be tried Monday.

CARNOT IS STABBED.

FRANCE'S PRESIDENT ASSASSINATED BY AN ITALIAN.

The Assasin Jumps Upon the President's Carriage and Sends the Sharp Steel Into His Breast—Santo Is Captured and Imprisoned.

LYONS, June 26.—The most intense excitement has been caused everywhere in France by the assassination of President Carnot by an Italian named Cesare Giovanni Santo.

The president was visiting Lyons in connection with the International exhibition. Upon his arrival here he was tendered a reception at the prefecture, after which he visited the exhibition. After spending some time at the exhibition he proceeded to the Palais de Commerce, where a banquet was given in his honor. At 9:25 o'clock Sunday night President Carnot started for the theater, where a gala performance was to be given because of his presence in the city.

Several carriages were in the procession, the first one being occupied by the president. M. Carnot's carriage was driven slowly along in front of the Palace of Commerce and then turned into Rue de la Republique, still following the facade of the palais. When half [illegible] with enthusiastic crowds of people, who were loudly cheering, a man rushed out of the crowd and sprang upon the stairs of the president's landau.

Just at this moment M. Carnot was waving his right hand and sainting with his hat in his left hand in response to the ovation that was being given to him by the crowd. The people close to the carriage saw that the man standing on the step had a knife in his hand. By the glare of the electric lights they saw the bright blade in the air as the assassin's arm descended, and then President Carnot was seen to fall back in his seat, his face deathly pale. One of his hands was pressed over his heart where the steel had entered the body.

M. Riveau, prefect of Lyons, who was seated beside M. Carnot, immediately struck the assassin a blow full in the face and knocked him from the step, thus preventing the man from again stabbing the president, which it was his evident intention to do.

Instantly cries of "le president est assassine" and "mort a la assassine" were heard on every side, and the crowd in the vicinity of the carriage swelled to enormous proportions, every member of it seeming intent on killing the assassin. He was grasped by a dozen hands and his life would have then and there paid the forfeit of his crime had it not been for several sergeants of Deville, who seized him, and, assisted by the police, succeeded after a hard struggle in getting the prisoner to the police station.

The report of the news of the assassination caused a great sensation at the Grand theater, which was filled to the walls with the elite of Lyons.

Women screamed and several fainted. Many men, without waiting to secure hats, ran out of the building. They found all the streets leading to the palace filled with excited throngs and in a few minutes they were convinced that the report of the cowardly attempt upon the life of the president was true.

In the meantime physicians were hastily summoned to attend the president, who had almost immediately been conveyed to the prefecture. A careful examination was made of the wound and the doctors declared that the condition of M. Carnot was hopeless.

M. Carnot remained conscious to the last. He realized that his life was rapidly ebbing, and twice he said: "I am dying."

Shortly after midnight the archbishop of Lyons was summoned to the bedside of the dying president and administered to him the last rites of the church.

President Carnot breathed his last just before 1 o'clock this morning. There was a convulsive shuddering of his body and the president of France was dead.

Santo, the assasin, is a beardless young man, 20 or 25 years old. When arrested he was attired in a brown suit and wore a peaked cap that matched the suit in color. He refuses to give any reason for assassinating the president of France.

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 130½. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1892.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

Sold by all druggists.

FRYING size chickens and hen fruit will be sacrificed, world without end this summer by the populists of Texas to assist in paying Judge Nugents campaign expenses.—McKinney Examiner.

It is to be hoped that populists will deal in "fresh" hen fruit and not the "ancient" kind such as democrats use in throwing at populist speakers. The use of the ancient hen fruit is a part of the democratic campaign recently, as reported in the papers. A few of the delegates at the late Waco convention received a batch of this fruit, the smell of which was very acceptable to the smell emenating from the unprincipaled donors.

The Standard Bearers of Texas Populists.

A LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC STATE CONVENTION.

Four Thousand People Witness the Adoption of the Platform and The Nomination of a State Ticket.

The populist state convention convened in the beautiful central Texas city, Waco, at 10 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, June 20, 1894. The convention was held under the large Christian Endeavor tent at Padgitt's Park, which The Dallas News reports has a seating capacity of 4000 people. During the convention the entire space under the great tent was occupied by intelligent, earnest, enthusiastic, cheerful and patriotic populists. We regret that THE DEMOCRAT has not space to give the full proceedings of the convention work which was most harmonious throughout.

The convention was opened by song and prayer, the entire delegation and visitors standing with bowed heads. The most remarkable feature of the convention was the liberal address of welcome by Hon. J. W. Riggins, president of the Waco commercial club. His populistic utterances caused the convention to go wild with enthusiasm. We will print a full text of the address as printed in the Fort Worth Gazette in our next issue and we do hope, especially, that the business element of our county will read the address. The platform adopted is as follows:

PLATFORM.

1. We hereby indorse the principles enunciated in the people's party platform adopted at Omaha, July, 1892.

2. We declare the people's party to be an anti-monopoly party and reiterate our opposition to monopolization of natural resources and public utilization by individuals or corporations for speculative purposes.

3. We declare the monopolies of land, money and transportation to be the fruitful sources of civil and industrial inequality and wrong, the parent of monopolies from which all lesser monopolies spring, and to the end that these monopolies and their baneful consequence may be removed we advocate as appropriate measures of relief.

4. The abolition of all private banks of issue of every character, whether state or national.

5. The construction, ownership and operation of railroads by the government to the extent necessary to control and regulate railroads.

6. The government ownership and operation of all telephone and telegraph lines.

7. The free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver upon the ration of 16 to 1.

8. The issuance by the government of full legal tender paper money upon some system or plan which, while securing all flexibility, shall so regulate the valne of currency as to limit it to the actual needs of business.

9. We denounce emphatically the issue of gold bonds in times of peace to meet current expenses of the government.

10. We favor the building of the Nicaragua canal under proper treaty; provided it is built and operated by our government in proper co-operation with Nicaragua and Costa Rica

11. We declare that the doctrine of a tariff for revenue is wrong in principle and we specially condemn the policy of free raw material while manufactured goods are protected.

12. All lands heretofore granted to individuals or corporations in which the grantees have not complied with the conditions of the grants should be forfeited to the state for homestead purposes.

13. No alien ownership of land should be allowed in Texas.

14. Corporations shall not be allowed to own more land than they actually use in the prosecution of their business.

15. We favor an effective system of public schools for six months in the year for all children between the ages of 6 and 18 years and that each race shall have its own trustees and control its own schools.

16. We demand the adoption of a uniform series of text books for the public schools to be furnished by the state at cost.

17. We demand an amendment to our state constitution authorizing the loan of our public school funds, not otherwise invested, upon lands of the people of this state with proper limitations upon the quantity of land and the amount of money.

18. We demand reformation in the punishment of convicts, that convict labor may be taken out of competition with citizen labor; that convicts be given intellectual and moral instructions and that the earnings of the convict above the expenses of keeping shall go to his family.

19. We demand a free vote and an honest count.

20, We demand an efficient lien law that will protect the artisan, mechanic, laborer and material man.

21. we demand that all county officers receive fixed salaries not to exceed $2000 per annum net, and that all fees shall be turned into the general fund.

22. we demand the establishment of a state bureau of labor.

23. we favor the creation of a state board of arbitration to adjust all differences between corporations and employes.

24. we demand that commissioner's courts shall not be allowed to contract a debt against a county for more than $5000 unless the same be ordered by a majority vote of the county.

25. we demand the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and that they be made legal tender for all debts.

26. we demand a sufficiency of good money to supply the wants of trade, and believe that $50 per capita is required.

27. we demand such amendment of the vagrant laws as will prevent the prosecutions as criminals of industrious laboring men while in a condition of enforced idleness.

28. while believing government ownership offers the only complete and satisfactory solution of the railroad question, we nevertheless favor the continuance of the commission, but demand that the commissioners shall be elected by the people and that the law shall be administered in a spirit of fairness to all parties.

29. we demand that the state provide sufficient accommodations for all its insane without discrimination in color.

30. we favor proportional representation.

31. we declare the people's party to be in favor of local, self government and the enjoyment by the individual of his natural rights to the greatest exent compatible with good society.

32. we favor such amendment to our constitution and tax laws as will secure the assessment of lands and improvements separately.

33. we favor a modification of the laws of limitation as to real estate, to the end that the titles to lands may be quieted.

34. we demand the enactment of a law declaring eight hours to be a legal day's work, except in domestic and agricultural affairs.

The platform as printed above is taken from the Dallas News and it is claimed by the committee that a few mistakes occur therein. The committee will revise and send out a corrected copy in a few days.

The ticket nominated is as follows:

T. L. Nugent, Governor; Marion Martin, Lieut. Governor R. V. Bell, Attorney General; Henry E McCulloch, Treasurer; S. C. Granberry, Land Commissioner; E. O. Meitzen, Comptroller; Addison Clark, Supt. Public Instruction; E. L. Dahoney, Judge of the Criminal court of Appeals; Tom Russell, Judge of the Supreme Court.

The vacant places on the judge's list will be supplied by the executive committee hereafter.

The nomination of Judge Nugent created pandemonium. Every delegate was on his feet. One thousand hats were in the air and for nearly five minutes the cheering continued. Judge Nugent replied to the convention as follows:

SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

"To say I am moved by this expression would be but a poor expression of my feelings. My feelings are the most profound because I realize my total incapacity to fulfill the expectations of the people who have brought me forward for this office. I see more in this movement than the mere organization of a party. I see vastly more than a mere organization to capture certain offices from the dominant party. I see more in it than mere reforms in policy that have grown upon this country through the maladministration of officers of the old parties. The people are pledged to great economic principles. We believe that by pursuing the lines marked out we can relieve the depressing conditions and restore happiness, peace and prosperity. Greater than all party platforms, greater than all mere party movements, greater than all mere success or defeat, if I may use that term, is the concourse that is gathered together in a spirit of brotherhood for the restoration of liberty and for the protection of life and property. Personally I have but little respect for mere partyism. It is not because we want office that we make a fight but because of the questions involved. As for myself I would very much prefer to continue my quiet existence in my office, making a living for myself and family. That is my inclination. It is the course I prefer to all others. I gravely mistrust my ability to discharge the trust reposed in me if I should be elected governor of Texas. I gravely mistrust my ability to administer the affairs of the governor's office in a manner satisfactory to the people who gave me their votes. But I am sure I can rely upon each and every one of you to assist me in every way to bear the burden you have placed upon me and I know if elected governor of this grand old state I will give you an administration just and fair to all the people, farmers, bankers and railroads alike. That, you may rely upon, my friends. Two years ago we met in Dallas and organized the people's party. We had the hardihood to enter the lists with the great democratic party whose shadow rests like a mighty incubus upon the entire state of Texas. We made the fight and over 100,000 brave men marched to the polls to the music of reform and cast their ballots for the people's party. and we have not lost them yet thank God Almighty. You hear Reagan and Culberson and Lanham going around the state saying we are going to pieces. We have still got that original 100,000 and we have not lost a man. They will stand as long and as firm as the eternal hills. Their faith can never be shaken. They are the old guard of freedom and reform in Texas which never has and never will surrender.

"I have known some of these old farmers for a great many years. Old Stump Ashby used to be my pastor, and I used to hear Stump preach every Sunday, and I had to pay my quarter to help to support him too. Then, as he is now, he was a very poor man. He has always been regarded as an honest man, and always a poor one. But we are going to create money for Stump and all the balance of them. We are going to do it simply by bringing prosperity to all of our people without regard to any class or social distinction whatever; by freeing the natural resources of the government and opening to the people every avenue of individual activity. Pin that upon the lapel of your coat, my friends. Nail it in your hearts. We are going to free these people by turning over to the masses the power that belongs to them. You have not had that power, you poor, old broken down farmers. You have been ridden and trodden under foot by a lot of political bandits who have not got half the sense you have. Because you had the name democrat and because your daddies were democrats you kept on voting for men who will sacrifice you and your wives and your children on the altar of selfish ambition to promote their own private schemes.

"This is the starting point of a mighty movement in behalf of individual liberty that will never stop until it is a full, complete and triumphant success. We will give to the government everything that belongs to the government, we will turn over and remit to all the people that individual liberty which belongs to them. The government has no business with the private concerns of its citizens. Those old reformers who have stood by us for so many years, either through me or some other leader, either at this time or some future time in this or in the presence of their children will see the complete realization of the expectations which we now indulge, which we hope to realize and which ought to be realized.

One other point and I am done. You may elect a governor, you may install him in your capitol at Austin, but he can do you no good whatever, he can accomplish nothing in the way of reform with a hostile legislature at every step to throttle him. Recollect that, my friends. When the next legislature meets it is going to be confronted with a deficit of $500,000. The constitution only permits the state to issue $200,000 of bonds, and I thank God for that. So we will have to provide ways and means for raising at least $300,000 more. We propose, my friends to restore the plain, simple principles of government that will not only redound to your peace and and happiness, but give protection to your life, liberty and property.

"Look at it! The record of the democratic party for the past four years has been one of extravagance beyond precedent. The expenses of the government have been creeping up and up till now they are way beyond what they were during the administration of Ross. My friends, we must go to work and organize the party and not only elect a reform governor and a reform legislature, but a reform United States senator, who will be above the corruption and rascality which now prevails at Washington. In the nameof God and humanity, my brothers, go to work and relieve the oppressed people of this country. The pity is now that some cool day about 1000 populists don't go up to Washington and take those senators by the nape of the neck and throw them out of the window on the grass they would not let poor Coxey tread on. And do you know that Coxey's army is largely made up of men who supported Cleveland and Harrison in 1892? They were legislated into poverty by the democratic party. When they went to Washington they were something like our Lord, who went unto his own and his own received him not."

CONVENTION NOTES.

J. H. Davis (Cyclone) was in the convention. His speech in seconding the nomination of T. L. Nugent for governor was one of of the most eloquent ever heard by any audience and had the effect of stirring his hearers to the highest point of enthusiaism. He paid a glowing tribute to the colored people who were rallying to Nugent and the cause of populism.

The most affecting sight was to look on the vacant chair in which sat the late Thomas Gaines at the last state convention. The desk and chair were draped in mourning. Resolutions in memory of the loved and lost were adapted by a unanimous rising vote.

Some candidates for positions on the state ticket had circulars out setting forth their claims and others had "workers" among the delegates. None of them were successful.

At the hour of 12 o'clock Wednesday night, 1500 men serenaded Judge Nugent in front of the Pacific Hotel.

Not a drunk man was seen in the convention. "Headquarters" were not at saloons.

The convention was much larger than the one held at Dallas in 1892. The great middle conservative class largely predominated, which won the admiration of lookers on.

Geo. C. Cabell, a brilliant young lawyer, who is a nephew of Gen. Cabell of Dallas, and whose father was recently a congressman from Virginia, in behalf of the young men of Texas, delivered one of the most learned and eloquent speeches of the convention. He declared that he had turned his back on flattering promises and prospects in the democratic party and had joined, heart and hands, with the populists.

Miss Ethel Lawrence, aged 12 years sang a campaign song which caused much enthusiasm.

The following by C. H. Jenkins, of Brownwood, was adopted:

"We hereby adopt as fundamental laws of the peoples party of Texas:

1. No officeholder shall be a delegate to any state or county convention.

2. To nominate shall require, on the first ballot three-fourths of the votes of the convention, on the second ballot two-thirds and on the third ballot a majority.

3. The state platform committee shall be elected by the congressional conventions and shall be called together by the chairman of the executive committee three days before the meetihg of the state convention."

A blind young man by the name of Gore, from Mississippi, neatly dressed, smooth face and good looking, addressed the convention. His speech was replete with facts and his eloquence unsurpassed. His points were telling. At the close of the address, which was most dramatic, the entire audience was on its feet cheering most wildly. Mr. Gore resembles Congressman Baily somewhat, and is spoken of as a candidate for congress on the populist ticket in Mississippi.

Several ladies graced the platform during the convention proceedings.

Dr. U. M. Browder, of Gainesville, candidate for congress, in the 5th district, spoke to a big audience at the city hall, Wednesday night. His speech was received well and it is safe to say that he converted some Waco democrats to populists.

Tate At Farmersville.

Farmersville, Collin Co. Tex. June 21—Last night at the city hall Prof. James A. Tate, of Nashville, Tenn., spoke for two hours to a large and appreciative audience upon the subject of national prohibition of the whisky traffic. His speech received almost continuous applause from beginning to the end.

One of the most amusing points of Tate's speech was about as follows: He was comparing the platforms of the democrats and republicans alternately, section at a time, and called on his audience to tell which was which. He read a republican plank and asked from what platform it was taken. An ex-member of the legislature and a leading Culberson advocate called out "democratic."

Judge E. C. Heath, of Rockwall, accompanies Prof. Tate in his engagement in Texas. Judge Heath furnished the audience with several inimitable campaign songs which also elicited applause.

Lebanon, Texas, June 19, '94.
Editor Democrat:

I find on reading ancient history, both profane and sacred, never before, except in time of pestilence, famine and war has there been such physical distress as now prevails in the United States. We have had no famine (except as money famine) contagious diseases, or war recently. Then the question suggested by these conditions is, what caused these unnatural, distressing, awe-inspiring results? There is but one plausible, logical, philosophical and truthful answer; and that is the simple, child-like trust reposed in the law makers of our country has been wofully violated. It is a self-evident fact that laws have been and are being enacted that are detrimental to the great masses of the people. And it doesn't require any more proof to convince us that there has been a dark lantern, midnight scheme concocted by our law makers on the one hand and the blood sucking vampires and soul destroying ghouls on the other. It worked. The tragedy is being enacted. Though it requires blood, flesh, the blasting of lives, hungry orphans, the treading on the heart strings of widows, the contamination of innocence and virtue by the virus produced by hunger and poverty, to successfully carry out all parts of the designed, tragical play, yet it is looked on afar off by its soulless, remorseless, relentless enactors, who in diabolical, ghoulish glee cheer the echo of the pitiful wail of starving children, heart breaking moans of bereaved mothers, mournful sighing of footsore, homeless, friendless men, aimlessly wandering beneath the canopy of the heavens, shrill screams from the denizens of debauchery and crime denoting lost virtue, lost womanhood, lost motherhood, lost soul.

The sweetest music to these tragedy plotters is the clanking of chains, the cry of despair, the sad moans of starvation, misery, condemnation and death. May the great omnipotent being pity their lust and comfort their victims.

"All run down" from weakening effects of warm weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hoods Sarsaparilla. Try it.

Our readers are kindly requested to send us in the news items of their respective communities for publication.

Lowry L. Lewis, son of our sturdy farmer friend, Mr. Sam Lewis, of Rhea's Mill, returned recently from Bryan, where he has been attending the A. and M. college.

Mr. R. A. Bailey, who lives 2 1-2 miles east of town, was in to see us Saturday last. He exhibited twelve turnips hn the streets that weighed a fraction over 42 lbs the largest of which weighed 5 lbs.

The county is overrun with county, and state democratic candidates, Who said the populist party was composed of "office seekers?"

On account of our space being crowded with state convention proceedings several communications are crowded out this week. One especially from J. T. Proctor, Nevada, will appear in our next issue.

Alonzo L. DeSpain who came to Texas some forty years ago and who first lived in the northern part of this county is now editor of the New Argus, a bright populist paper, which he publishes at his home, ten miles in the country out from Breckinridge, Stephens county, Texas. His children do the type-setting.

The P. M. of McKinney informs us that a change will take place July 1 in money order business, and postal notes will cease to issue, ond that lock boxes are in demand and would advise those who have boxes to pay their box rent promptly at the beginning of the quarter, July 1, as they cannot be held longer than ten days.

We hope our friends throughout the county will aid us in procuring new subscriptions to THE DEMOCRAT.

Tommy Jones is in the race to win. He is a candidate before the public for their patronage in the grocery line.

Commencement Exercises.

Commencement exercises of the McKinney Collegiate institute, which began Friday evening June 8 and closed Thursday evening June 14, after a series of entertainments by each of the several departments, that universal opinion pronounces to have been far superior to anything of the kind in, not only the history of the Institute, but in the history of any educational enterprise in our county.

As a partial account of these entertainments has already been given in THE DEMOCRAT, only a brief notice will here be attempted.

On Friday evening, June 8. at 8 p. m. the doors of the art department, which is under the direction of Miss Irwin, were thrown open to a great crowd of visitors and patrons, Catalogues were furnished and Miss Irwin, ably assisted by her pupils, proceeded to make the evening highly profitable to all. Many were the exclamations of surprise and gratification at the progress and talent here exhibited. We regret that lack of space prevents our going into a detailed account of some of the finished executions and evidences of talent here displayed.

On Sunday following the Baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. A. E. Baten, at the Baptist church, to a large congregation.

Monday evening an immense throng packed the school chapel and adjacent rooms to their utmost capacity, in an attempt to witness the exhibition by the primary and intermediate departments. After solos by Misses Cassie Seay, Mozelle Wylie and Fanny Muse, one hour of merriest enjoyment was furnished to all by a number of little folks the play, "Old Mother Goose and her Temperance Family." First, Horace Wyley introduced and gave a synopsis of the play in a neat speech.

Those representing the characters were:

Old Mother in the shoe—Kate Heard.

Mother Goose—Ethel Abernathy.

Old King Cole—Rhea Foote.

Little Bo-Peep—Lelia Terrell.

Jack Horner—Jimmie Hill.

Mother Hubbard—Little Miss Herndon.

Margie Loyejoy gave a delightful recitation and then the exercises of the evening were concluded by a beautiful fan drill by twent-four little misses. All the performances were highly creditable and reflected most favorably on Miss Lizzie May Sligh, who was the chief instructress in these departments.

Tuesday and Wednesday evening's entertainments, by the elocution and musical departments, were largely attended, notwithstanding the inclement weather. Dr. Quinn and his large class rendered some of the choicest instrumental and vocal music to the delight of all who attended Wednesday night.

At an early hour, long before the time set for the beginning of commencement day exercises, on Thursday the 14th the chapel was filled with citizens and visitors from abroad.

Rev. A. P. Terrell opened with prayer and was followed by a brilliant rendering of the overture to Weber's "Oberon" by Misses Olive Standifer and Ruth Sligh.

Texas, Indian territory and Louisiana were represented in the graduating class.

Hon. Quinn T. Moreland, of Fort Worth, delivered the annual address. This gentleman is a profonnd thinker and finished orator. He spoke an hour to a delighted audience who continually greeted him with enthusiastic applause.

Miss Olive Standifer, pupil of Dr. Quinn, charmed the audience with the artistic rendering of an original Scherzo which called forth public expression of the highest appreciation for her talent and culture.

The Sapphonian Literary Society closed the exercises in the evening by a delightful entertainment. The members marched on the stage in the chapel and rendered the following excellent programme:

Three pieces of music by Misses Standifer, Pearson and Nenny; two essays by Mr. Monroe Hinsley and Miss Mamie Dowell; two recitations by Misses Bessie Nelson and Mattie Horn; two orations by Messrs. Moulden and Andrews.

This school, in which every resident of Collin count is, or ought to be, interested, is fast assuming a high rank among the best institutions of learning in the state, and under the present management its future promises much towards building up and advancing, not only the educational interests of our town and county, but also contributing to our general welfare in every line of business.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of May, while in Des Moines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhœa. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa remedy for the past seventeen years and knowing its riliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhœa. Every one should procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. For sale by R. E. Bristol.

Paris Tex., June 25.—Bronzed, worn out by long vigils and constant riding, sleepy and hungry Deputy Marshals Browne, Mynett, Harper and Jackson arrived here to-day, having in custody W. M. Christian, Ike Grett and Slaughter Kidd, whom they incarcerated in the Paris jail on a charge of horse theft. Their reception was almost in the nature of an ovation. Hundreds pressed them by the hand and expressed gratification at seeing them alive again.

But the officers had experienced great hardships and had been involved in two battles with outlaws during their sojourn of two weeks in the Seminole and Creek countries, where it was reported they had been killed. From the time they left here until their return they slept out of doors nearly every night and ate whenever they got an opportunity. They knew the character of the people they were among and moved with the greatest secrecy and caution. Every man in that country was armed and the officers say that whenever they met one his hand went to his pistol and remained there as long as they were in sight.

While they were there they were told about the bodies of three men who had been murdered about thirty miles from where they were operating. They think that the finding of these bodies led to the report that they had been killed. The body of another man was found while they were there. He had evidently been killed only a short time. The man who found him went for assistance. On returning to the body the head had been cut off and could not be found, so that identity was not possible.

Another murder took place in the vicinity during their stay in that region. A man had been up near Sapulpa, where he had a timber contract. He started to his home in the Seminole country. A stranger fell in with him and traveled with him until within three miles of his home, when in crossing Little river he was killed and his body thrown in the stream. It was found several miles below some days later.

They say that before leaving they heard it reported that Deputy Marshal Stanfield, of Fort Smith, had wiped out a notorious gang a few days before. A battle was fought in which six of the desperadoes were killed.

Browne and party had two running fights last Thursday with men they were very anxious to capture, but no one was hurt and the men made their escape.

Their experiences during the raid are thrilling and interesting enough to furnish several chapters for a novel.

They say that Gov. John Browne, of the Seminole nation, rendered them valuable assistance and is anxious to have his country rid of outlaws, who are nearly all white men, the Indians being peaceable and law abiding.

From Coal Gate.

Coal Gate, I. T., June 21, '94.
Editor Democrat

I have promised to write to so many that it would take too much time to write to all at once, only through THE DEMOCRAT.

We are well. Got to Lehigh the 20th and stopped with friend John Cormack. He had caught a fine lot of fish and we eat fish for supper.

The Strip pits are at work. No shaft work going on.

There are about two hundred soldiers camped here, but the strike goes on. They were talking of putting the intruders out this week but they received orders to hold up for sixty days, so we know not how the week will go on.

It is very dry here now.

Crops do not look so good, but I learn that the crops are good in O. K.

Times are hard here in Coal Gate and Lehigh. So many idle men,

I will close. My next postoffice address will be Ada, Chicasaw Nation, I. T. I will try to write again soon.

SCRIBE.

A Woman Sentenced to Die.

Monticello, N. Y. June 22.—Lizzie Falliday, who was yesterday convicted of the murder of Mrs. McQuillan, was to-day sentenced to die by electricity during the week beginning Aug. 5: The condemned woman showed not the least evidence that she knew what was going on in the courtroom and exhibited, as she has through out her trial and since her imprisonment, and appearance of imbecility that has impressed many as genuine.

Negro Lynched in Arkansas.

Magnolia, Ark., June 22.—Henry Capus, the negro who attempted an assault upon three young ladies, was caught near Homer La., and brought back to the neighborhood in which he had attempted the assaults and fully identified. He confessed his guilt and was swung to a limb and about 100 bullets put into his body. He implicated another negro in the neighborhood, who has skipped out with the same parties in pursuit, and if caught he will likely meet a similar fate.

An inquest was held to day over Capus' body, the jury returning a verdict of death at the hands of unknown parties.

A Word For Nugent.

The gubernatorial beacon light that the populists who are with us seem to be looking to, with one accord, is their leader of 1892—Judge Nugent. And candor impels the remark that he is an honorable, estimiable gentleman—a lawyer of marked ability, with requirements and characteristics that attract those who know him. Democrats will be in duty bound to defeat his election, but they admit that as governor he would govern Texas in patriotic spirit,—Waco Day-Globe.

The Best Joke Out.

One day last week a leading democratic lawyer was engaged in a joint discussion with a farmer populist. Each had agreed to read and defend their respective state platforms; the democrat was a Hoggite. As usual he failed to read and defend his platform, but spent his time in vilifying populist leaders.

When the populist arose to reply, he called attention to the fact that the gentleman had failed to read his platform, and that he (the populist) would read it, which he did by section. The democrat endorsed each section as read. After the entire platform had been read, the democratic lawyer arose, and in a loud voice, said: "I assisted in formulgating that platform, and for the gentleman's information I will state, I yet indorse every word of it."

Whereupon the populist coolly showed the discomfitted mossback that the document which had been read, and which he had indorsed, was the 1892 republican platform of Kansas.

It is said that this leading democrat contemplates moving to Kansas.

Unkindest Cut of All.

Lexington, Ky., June 21.—Charles C. Moore, the infidel prohibition editor of the Blue Grass Blade, announces himself a candidate for congress from this district. He says he will meet either Owens or Settle, but will not meet Colonel Breckinridge. His reason for declining to meet Col. Breckinridge is that he would not debate with a man in public whom he could not invite to his home.

Gems of Populism.

The following are extracts from the speech of Mrs. Lease, delivered in New York:

"We fill God's blue heavens with spires and domes, while his children wander the cold earth without an attic in which to sleep.

Christ taught the equality of men. If the plutocrats are to rule the world, it would seem to need, in place of the humble carpenter of Nazareth, a Christ who wears a stove pipe hat and smokes 25 cent cigars,

As political shepherds, the two old political parties have but one thought for their flock, the people—not how the flock might best be tended, but how often and how closely it might be shorn,

Every child that dies of hunger furnishes incontrovertible evidence of a murder done for money.

The mighty giant of labor is at last aroused. He is shaking the pillars of the capitalistic temple. In his eyes is the light of justice. He is breaking the fetters that have for ages bound him to the rock of ignorance, and is demanding exact justice for all and special privileges for none.

Men will starve in the sight of plenty, and when a votary of fashion gives a birthday party consisting of game pie, chicken and ice cream to her pet poodle there is no reason why men should starve.

We are burning corn in Kansas for fuel, while the coal miners of Pennsylvania are starving, and all because the government does not own the railroads.

The aristocracy of your city may well be startled as it thinks of the French revolution."

Greenville, Tex., June 21.—A few days since R. L. Good of Collin county made affidavit charging E. R. Stone of Celeste with seducing Goods daughter. THE SUGAR CURED CONGRESS.

How dear to our hearts is our democratic congress,
As hopeless inaction presents it to view;
The bill of poor Wilson, the deep-tangled tariff,
And every mad pledge that their lunacy knew;
The widespread depression, the mills that closed by it,
The rock of free silver, where great Grover fell.
They've bust ed the country, no use to deny it.
And darn the old party, i'ts busted as well.

This G. Cleveland congress,
This Queen Lilly congress,
This wild free trade congress,
We all know so well.

Their moss covered pledges we no longer treasure,
For often at noon when ont hunting a job,
We find that instead of the corn they had promised,
Thep've given us nothing—not even a cob.
How ardent we've cussed 'em with lips overflowing
With sulphurous blessings as great swear words fell,
The emblems of hunger, free trade and gold basis,
Are sounding in sorrow the workingman's knell.

This bank-breaking congress,
This mill-closing congress,
This starvation congress,
We all know so well.

How sweet from their eloquent lips to receive it,
"Cursed tariff protection no longer uphold,"
We listened, and voted our dinner pails empty,
Body and breeches to monopoly sold,
And now, far removed from our lost situations,
The tear of regret doth intrusively swell,
We yearn for a change in the administration,
And sigh for more "Pops", who now serve us so well.

This fifty-third congress,
This democrat congress,
This sugar-cured congress,
We wish was in—well.

FULL STATE TICKET.

POPULISTS IN CONVENTION AT WACO NOMINATE OFFICERS.

Nugent Was Nominated by Acclamation Amid Scenes of Great Enthusiasm. Marion Martin Placed as His Lieutenant—The Other Candidates.

WACO, Tex., June 23.—The principal feature of the Populist convention Thursday was the nomination of state officers. It was 9 o'clock before the body began work, but when business was once began it was with a rush.

The platform adopted contains 34 planks and was agreed to with very little discussion.

On motion the convention proceeded to the nomination of a state ticket. The rules were suspended and J. W. Baird of Jones county moved that Thomas L. Nugent be nominated for governor by acclamation.

The nomination was seconded by John M. Moore of Fort Worth, who paid a glowing tribute to Judge Nugent, and said if he was elected governor it would not be necessary for him to make a tour of the states to explain away the mistakes of his administration.

Judge Nugent was then nominated by a rising vote amid a perfect storm of applause.

When Judge Nugent was introduced to the convention by Chairman Ashby as "the man who will be our next governor if we do our duty," the boys let loose. They threw up their hats and fairly made the welkin ring. It was some time before quiet was restored, when Judge Nugent accepted the nomination in a voice trembling with emotion and his face pale from embarrassment.

Marion Martin of Corsicana was also nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor.

R. V. Bell of Gainesville was nominated for attorney general on the third ballot.

Henry McCulloch was nominated unanimously for treasurer.

Stephen C. Granberry of Travis county was on the third ballot nominated for land commissioner.

E. O. Meitzen of Layaca was selected for comptroller on the fourth ballot.

Addison Clark of Thorp Spring captured the nomination for superintendent of public instruction on the first ballot.

E. L. Dohoney of Lamar was nominated for judge of the criminal court of appeals by acclamation and Tom Russell of Beaumont for judge of the supreme court.

At 2:15 o'clock this morning the convention was engaged in nominating the other judges, which will complete its work.
